The best leaning way for the sake of better comprehension of elegant and cultured English

Toshiyuki Namai

The following is the best way to remarkably improve the quality of comprehension as to Toshiyuki Namai's English rationally spoken in the lessons.

This time, I shall guide you the best way, "how to review the lesson" after taking it face to face. You have the totally different quality and result of the study with or without experiencing the following learning way.

To begin with, I really need to tell you that you always need to consult a dictionary, when you have a word which you cannot recognize or understand in the process to take dictation to review the lesson.

If you unfortunately cannot find the word which you want to know in your dictionary, "you are meaningfully guided to leave it" as a blank in the sentences written in your notebook.

Fundamentally, this blank performs reasonably as a very important role in order to build the infancy of your English culture genuinely. In other words, this blank reasonably changes your future English more than you imagine.

As you are doing already, you need to think and rethink “what word it is” regarding the word which you don’t know or recognize in the process to take dictation.

Later on, when you listen to the “same unknown word” again in your listening activity, I’d like you to think and rethink “what word it is.” How you enthusiastically and intellectually have such experience improves your English ability greatly through having this learning process which is really painful. You need such painful experience in the learning process to build your genuine English culture in future.

Analytically and of course scientifically, you are fundamentally required to have such experience to gradually improve your substantial English ability. Such substantial experience is crucial for the students all.

As a matter of fact, some students feel it is an uneasy experience for them. Yes, it is true that “it is uneasy.” However, such uneasy experience is absolutely necessary for you all. Because it gives you an “unforgettable impression” toward the same unknown word. If you know the answer easily on the spot, it doesn’t make sense at all. You will forget the word you easily got later (you must have such experience in your previous learning experience before starting attending my lessons at English Hills, Ginza).

As a matter of necessity, “you are required to ‘think’ and ‘rethink’” of those words you don’t know or recognize in the process to take dictation for your careful review of the lesson.

You need to continue using a dictionary in order to find the same unknown word over and over again. This shall perform nicely as your genuine study to really go forth. Such time-consuming process to consult a dictionary is “decisively important” for the sake of cultivating your English.

After spending a long time, you eventually find the same unknown word in your dictionary or in the sentences written by me on the pages of the web site, English Hills, Ginza. When you have “the day” to find the word at long last, you never forget the word for the rest of your life. Because you have “such strong impression” which is absolutely unforgettable in the process of learning.

This is the best way to be strongly impressed about the unknown word. There is no other surefire way in the learning. You need such rigid leaning experience little by little. Then, you can gradually go forth in the learning for the sake of your genuine cultivation you wish to have in future.

It goes without saying that “sweat” (difficult experience) is necessary for the sake of building genuine cultivation in future. You cannot cultivate yourself “without even breaking a sweat at all.”

“No gains without pains.” This is the very truth in any matters related to action taken by human beings.

Who changes your English in future? No one changes your English. You are a person who has now such great opportunity to dramatically change it by yourself under the essential instruction I solemnly carry out for your future sake.

I'd like you to follow me. You are genealogically guided to develop your culture internationally by my instruction.
