Graceful reverberation through feeling a sense of transience as a matter of everlasting transmigration for the sake of the crystallization of the ultimate elegance in the profound usage of a common language of humankind

Toshiyuki Namai

Now, I'd like you to deeply rethink about the most effective way to gradually learn and master English language as a common language of humankind on earth through receiving the humanitarian lessons rationally conducted by your instructor, Toshiyuki Namai.

As for you to review the lessons carefully and systematically for the sake of building your English culture universally, I'd like you to calmly rethink about the most effective way to do it, again. I imagine that you are naturally coming to feel the reasonable and beautiful effectiveness of taking dictation for you to review the lessons according to the teaching and guidance given.

As for you all for the sake of your fruitful and successful study, I'd like you to place yourself in the elegancy of tranquility after finishing taking dictation at all times.

Essentially speaking, the concept, “tranquility” stereotypically perceived simply doesn’t mean a state of silence at all. It is a state which you can gorgeously enjoy as an elegant mood of silence through imagining and feeling what is called “everlasting transmigration” universally.

Right now, I’d like you to universally imagine that “human life is transient.” In fact, human life is transient judging from the immense distances of space undoubtedly. This is the very reality of reality no one can deny.

As a matter of reality, we human beings are entitled to beautifully and rationally enjoy breathing through feeling a sense of transience anytime anywhere as sapient beings who by nature possess reason (thinking ability given) here on earth in the solar system in the universe.

Now, I hereby lecture upon the essence of taking dictation for you all who wish to absolutely make a sense to do so for the sake of the crystallization of spiritual sophistication.

Dictation itself is just a matter of your prerequisite as the rudiments of your essential study for the sake of building your culture now and in the future universally. What you quintessentially need as your desideratum is that you’ve got to be in the presence of such beauty of a sense of transience deriving from everlasting transmigration metaphysically. In order to do it, you are absolutely required to free yourself from your mental bondage you unconsciously have in your daily life. It goes without saying that you have the totally different quality of the study with or without having your mental bondage.

Rudimentarily, it is true that no one realizes “the ultimate elegance in the profound usage of English language” as a common language of humankind on earth without feeling a sense of transience universally.

The ultimate elegance what is called “the elegance of elegance” in the profound usage of English language is not a matter of stereotypical imitation at all. It is a matter of the utmost spiritual state out of immaculate delicacy deriving from a sense of transience universally.

In order to recognize and grasp the essential direction for the sake of the pursuit of the elegance of elegance, I'd like you to place yourself in front of a piece of candle in the elegant mood of tranquility in the dark. If you do so, you shall be gradually guided to gracefully feel "some reverberation" in your heart.

Reverberation you are expected to deeply experience guided by your instructor shall be interpreted as "some sort of lingering sound" you delicately feel not only in your heart but also in your whole body. You need to be very sensitive in order to feel a lingering sound in the inner part of your heart deeply through listening to English spoken by him.

If the words deeply reverberate in your heart and in your whole body in the process to listen to English spoken by him, your study would be very meaningful and successful in listening to the essential message included in his English rationally spoken by him.

I'd like you all to enjoy experiencing graceful reverberation through feeling a sense of transience as a matter of everlasting transmigration for the sake of the crystallization of the ultimate elegance in the profound usage of a common language of humankind here on earth in the solar system in the universe. I Toshiyuki Namai shall give you the best of the best in my teaching for your intellectual and rational sake universally at any cost.

Everything for the sake of reaching the ultimate elegance hinges upon your spiritual stage right now. It is not a wise idea to take action according to the aforementioned instruction from tomorrow. I'd like you to urgently take action from today. If you think that you take action from tomorrow, you will easily think that you do it tomorrow (next day), too. And you will continue thinking the same day after day. If you are dominated by this stereotyped idea most of the people have in the society, you never do anything.

There is no tomorrow. Today is the best day to courageously change yourself. Nobody changes yourself. You are a person who changes (makes) your future.

Your future has not been written yet.
