The beginning of wisdom

Toshiyuki Namai

<Introduction>

To begin with, you are solemnly guided to place a piece of candle in front of you and turn off an electric light in your room.

It is a reasonable environment for you to profoundly imagine, feel and think what you need in such environment prepared yourself.

I'd like you to seriously understand that the environment is very powerful and influential "in deeply imagining, feeling and thinking" more that you ignorantly imagine.

It is said, "Experience is the mother of wisdom." What you need is "to experience the necessary learning process" in accordance with my professional instruction.

Above all things, to prepare and experience the same as I guide you is indispensable for you to greatly improve your English ability. If you do not follow my guidance as it is, you cannot improve your English as you wish to do so. As you already recognize and clearly know that I tell you the truth all the time without hesitation.

I really don't have any second to teach you any unnecessary thing which you don't need. Time is sacred to me. Therefore, I'd like you to seriously experience the same as I guide you. This is the instruction "just for your sake."

The following is a poem composed by me. Now, I'd like you to slowly imagine, feel and think some vital matters through appreciating the poem. The mental image is forsooth the one which is very important for you to be aesthetically stimulated in the inner part of your heart.

The beginning of wisdom

Ignorance is bliss

An ignorant person is dull in front of something formidable

It is a blessing to feel some sort of formidability for you

Formidability gives you a privilege not to be blind in the presence of the absolute truth

The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom

It is a sheer bliss to fear those you don't know yet

There are so many things you don't know yet

Philosophize now,

To know what you don't know is the first step in order to know what it is in the future
